

Intentional Success

Happy August Jackson,

Usually this is an opportunity to say things like, "Put your phone number and email on your kid's backpack..." or "Make sure you stay hydrated in the August sun..." All valid advice.

With poor mental health care consistently tied to incomprehensible acts of violence in our country, I wanted to use this platform as an opportunity to attempt positive change.

A mental health diagnosis is not a pre-requisite to senseless violence, yet a diagnosis is a crushing blow to both the individual and their loved ones, often diverting everyone's life goals for years.

I believe supporting those challenged with a diagnosis raises all boats:

(61 seconds. Could not get text to work but I tried really hard for what it's worth)

Our March & August Q.A.C. (Quotes Are Catalysts) program & our September Elevate WI event are all supporting NAMI of Waukesha County in their NAMI Walks campaign on September 14th in Frame Park.

Please consider joining us for the walk (Use link to get in FREE!) to support families and those with diagnosis to create more accepting, loving communities right here at home.

It's a new world. We all need to react in ways that fulfill us. I personally feel compelled to intentionally look for a solution.

Driven to serve you & our community,

Jackson Bubolz
