

Intentional Success

Jackson,

This weekend, neighborhoods had nasty scares with several break-ins, both vehicles and garages.

The relationship Elevated is intending to build with you is one of value, safety, and education while not over-doing it. We didn't want to wait until December to send this, so please forgive an early email to share these ideas:

Below are several articles talking about PREVENTION, and helping each other out. These are some take-aways to protect you and your neighbors from those desperate enough to commit crimes:

- Keep everything locked. Doors, windows, and cars.
- Remove items of value- both from our yards, and from vehicles parked outside
- Keep yard lights on, and close curtains in evenings to prevent "casing"
- Trim back hedges so they don't offer cover in front of a window
- Be mindful of your social- don't advertise a long vacation or weekend trip
- Master Bedroom isn't safe, in fact, it's the treasure chest. Consider keeping jewelry, cash, and medications elsewhere.

Please Google your towns non-emergency phone number and put it in your phone. If you feel you are part of or are seeing an emergency, skip right to 911.

Please consider implementing a few of the above ideas. Talk to your neighbors to build relationships with them and know that there is more good than evil in this world.
